El-Chees-Choos, Murderer of Freighter Herbert, Hung at Solomonville on Friday Last.

The execution of the Apache Indian, El-Chees Choos, convicted of the murder of a freighter named Herbert, six miles north of Fort Thomas on the second day of last March, was a gratifying success and reflects credit on Sheriff Whelan, who had every arrangement perfect. The con-demned Indian was kept under the sur-veilance of a death watch for 48 hours before the time set for hanging, and during of emotion or evidence any uneass as to his fate in the land of the hereafter He belonged to the Tonto tribe and said to have been one of the worst on the servation. Jimmy Stevens and Maraiilda Grijalva acted as interpreters for demned. Rev. Father Geldorf visited him several times and urged the necessity of spiritual preparation for the next world. But all was refused by El-Chees-Choos, who said that no doubt the Father's religion was good for this world, and if was to remain in it he would be willing to become a Christian, but as his time was nearly up here below, he could not see hat any benefit could come to him now He told Father Geldorf that he (the Indian) would see God himself and tell Him the whole story and if He thought

When they arrived there El-Chees-Choos asked permission to smoke a cigarette, which steps while smoking and told the crowd steps while smoking and told the crowd through an interpreter that if they wished teen miles in our front. With such conthey had better hang all the Indians. When he had finished his eigarette he arose and walked alone to the rope which bung between the beams and began to hum a song which he kept up until the rope was adjusted and the black cap drawn over his head, Deputy J. P. Robertson cut the rope and El-Chees-Choos was hardly made a struggle, and was pro-nounced dead by Dr. A. H. Hoeffer, the attending physician, in 14 minutes. This was the second hanging ever witnessed in this county, the first being the from our citizens who have the interest of execution of three Chinamen in 1883 for for the murder of one of their country-
